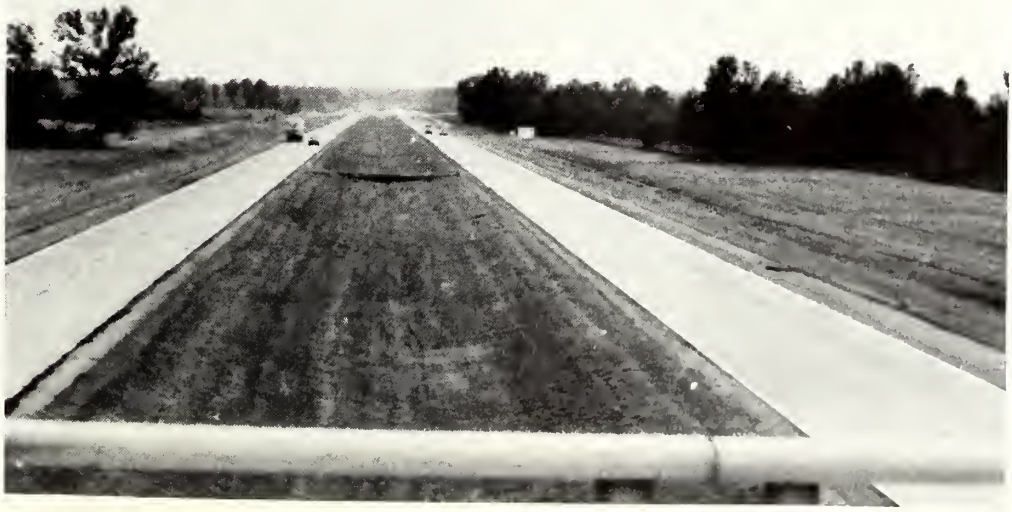
Rend Lake College
Volume III



The World
Before Us . . .

Foreword

The World Before us ...

... offers many different paths, highways and roads, all there for the taking. There are roads of happiness, highways of sadness and streets of victory and defeat. We, the 1970 Tarn Staff, offer to you, the student body, this edition of the Tarn as your path of memories, from your time spent at Rend Lake College.

A Message From the Dean

the road

Since the beginning there has been the road.
Those who set me on it told of signs to point the path.
And warn of hidden hazards; and at the end, they said
I'd find a golden city wherein contentment lay - and peace.
Theirs not the fault if I have missed a turning;
Theirs not to choose once I was on my way.

No time had I for thoughts of journey's ending
For there were wines to taste and songs to sing.
And in my blood pulsed youth - and immortality.
Ahead of me the highway ploughed straight furrow
That climbed a hill and cut a gap through trees
That reached tall fingers toward the sky.
My feet were eager for the path and moved so fast I hardly knew
The scent of honeysuckle in the hedges or marked the hawk
That braced dark omens on the blue.

I swiftly climbed to reach the crested summit,
For something deep within me said, "Beyond the brow lies Camelot!"
But when I reached the top - no shining city but just another hill,
And on beyond another, and another, each new crown climbing higher still.
And I could see the road no longer ran unbending
But forked to right or left, and I must choose
Which turn to take; and on the signs that stood like stern schoolmasters
Not always were the legends clear. Sometimes they pointed two directions;
Some sang of cities fairer still.

And there were often byways, green, untraveled,
To lure me from the path to unmarked trails
Where banks of blossoms bloomed in bright profusion,
Or grasses rustled in a fairy glen. Sometimes they led me into swampland
Or into thickets where the thorns tore tender flesh.
Yet not a one but had its leaf of laurel
And none that brimmed my eyes with vain regret.

Sometimes the fairest road dead-ended
And I must choose to go or left or right, and now
I find myself atop another hill, and in the distance
Still another left to climb. This daunts me not.
It is the road that is important -
That, and that choice has been, and will be, mine.

- Howard Rawlinson

DEPARTMENTS

Rend Lake College Library

Magazines, tapes, records, and reference books are a few of the many services provided by the RLC library. Mrs. Imogene Book, head librarian, is assisted by Mrs. Paula Dulaney and Mr. David Patton.

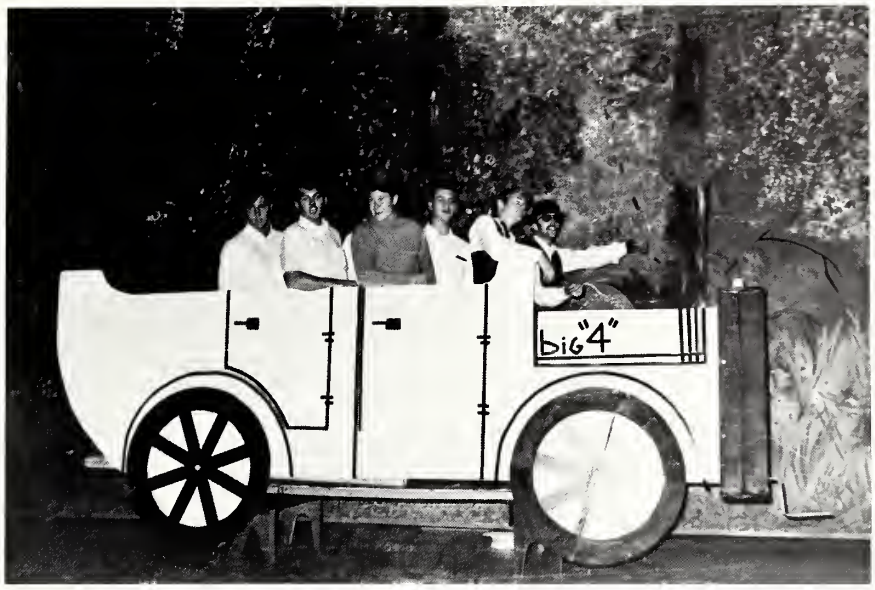
SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Variety Show "69"

THE GAY "90'S"

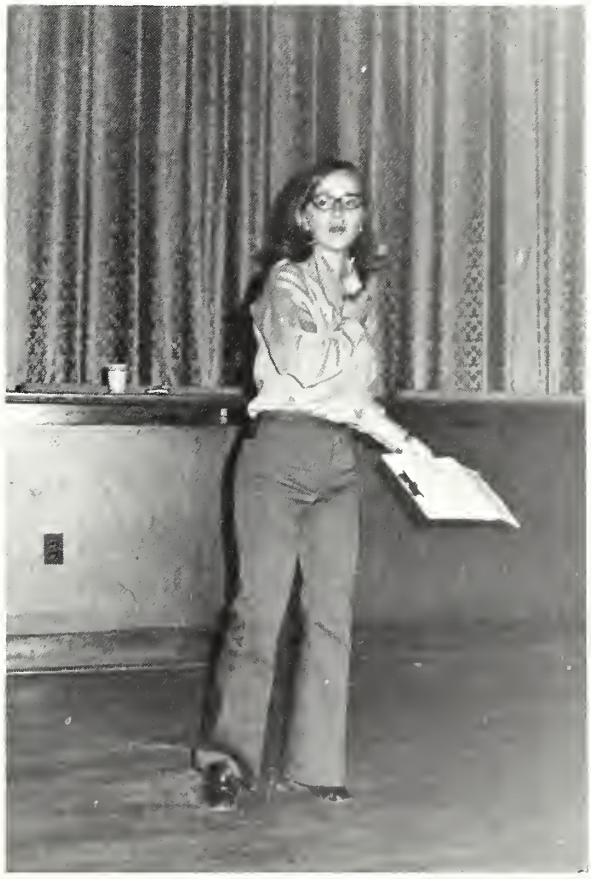
The Variety Show this year was based on the "Gay 90's." Many featured acts were solos, dances, a glee club, and melodramas. All the talent came from the Student body.

The glee club singing their song "Crus-in in My Model T."



Debbie Herbert and Mike Jones sang "On Moonlight Bay."

Miss Merkins was the "Big Chief" in charge of the "Gay 90's."



"The prop fell on who?"

Spring Musical
LITTLE MARY SUNSHINE

Young Ladies from the Eastchester School and their escorts from the United States Forest Service.
LADIES: Linda Raby, Connie Savage, JoAnn Karcher, Debbie Pullis, Marsha Benedict, Kolina Martin.
ESCORTS: Bob Conway, Carl Sanders, Bill Bullard, Steve Jackson, Jim Burkner, Larry White.

Uncle Oscar and Madame Ernestine reminisce about their travels in Vienna in their younger days.

Captain Jim arrives in the nick of time to save Little Mary Sunshine from Yellow Feather.

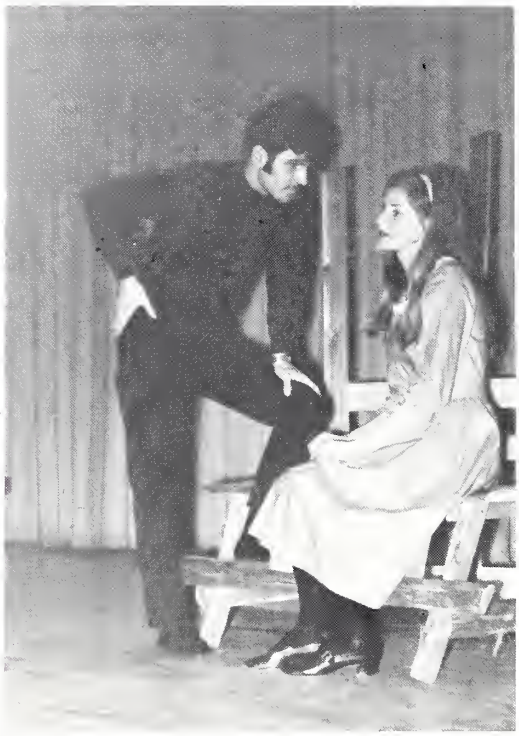
Billy Jester learns to be an Indian before he is adopted to replace Chief Brown Bear's son.

Linda Atchison starred as Little Mary Sunshine and Mike Sanders as Fleetfoot and Art Brown as Captain Jim.

Nancy Twinkle just loves disguises.

A large number of the cast of Dark of the Moon as towns people at the local dance in one of the opening scenes of the play.

Dark of the Moon



Bill Webb, the male lead with Sara Dykes, the female lead.

This is the Allen family. From left to right are Nathan McClintock as Barbara's father, Sara Dykes as Barbara Allen, Bill Webb as John the Witch Boy, Jean Derges as Barbara's mother, and Mike Jones as Floyd, her brother.

Kipp Proefrock (Marvin Hudgens) is fighting Bill Webb (John) over who will dance with Sara Dykes (Barbara Allen).

John is talking to Barbara as the Witches and Conjur people look on.

Dark of the Moon is a fascinating story about John, a witch boy, falling in love with Barbara Allen, a human. John changes into a human but finds opposition from the people of the valley.

Barbara is forced to repent her marriage during the revival scene.

Steve Speake (Hank Gudger) and Angie Garner (Edna Summey) repented their sins during the revival scene.

Dan Ripplinger (Uncle Smelicue) recounts his story about the ring with the green and shinin' stone.

Informal Dances

This is one way to get acquainted.

"Hey, why don't you play the same song we are?"

"Now that we showed you guys how to do it, why don't you try it?"

"Sing it like it is!"

"Look who she is dancing with now!"

"Who is going to make the first move?"

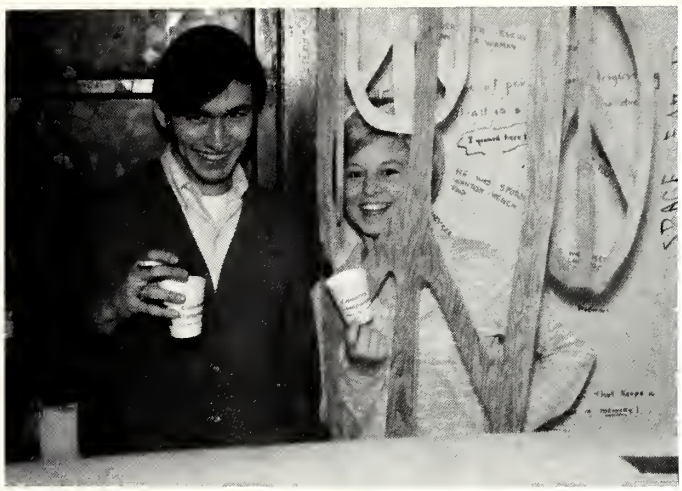
Convocations

Bill Moore, Jerry Walker, Rick Nance, Becky Orrick, and Mike Jones all ran for the senate the second semester.

Debbie Pullis tells how she will use her talents to help the school if she is elected to the student senate.

The SIU Stage Band, directed by Gene Stiman, presented a concert during one of the spring convocations.

Mr. Dan Tyler Moore spoke on "Tricks of the Trade of Spy Warfare."



... a place to relax and watch T.V. with someone or by yourself.

... a place for couples to meet, eat, and drink after a show.

The "DMZ" Coffee House is . . .

... a place managed by college people for college people.

... a place for mingling of people and ideas.

... a place to belong.

Spring Formal 1968

The Queen, Kathy Herzing.

An informal dance was held after the crowning of the queen. "The Ashes of Dawn" furnished the music.

Coke, of course.

The girls had their dates take them home to change clothes before the informal dance.

The RLC 1969-70 Christmas Dance

Playing for this year's Rend Lake College Christmas Dance was an East St. Louis band, Hoss and the Lords.

A chance to wear that beautiful dress and forget the worries of school, plus the enjoyment of dancing.

The RLC Christmas Dance was held at the Elks Country Club the night of December 13th. The theme of the dance proved to be a very suitable theme as the night progressed. The evening of dance and coronation went as smoothly and was enjoyed as much as an old fashioned "Sleigh Ride."

Students and faculty refresh themselves and gossip at the snack bar.
